'The Pleasure's All Mine...'

"Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow" might be the theme of today's exodus from classrooms as Victoria's schools settle into peace and quiet for the summer respite from pencils, books, and dirty looks. Mrs. Margaret Martin of Lampson Street School shows no regret as she looks forward to more than two months minus reading, writing, and rambunctious rascals. The rascals aren't shedding tears, either. But mothers throughout the city began marking days off the calendar, waiting for the magic date—Sept. 7—when school starts once more. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

Speedy Cease-Fire Promised by Reds

Mendes-France Reports to Assembly On Indo-China Talks With Chou En-Lai

PARIS (UP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France told the National Assembly today that Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai has promised a military settlement—the long-awaited cease-fire—in Indo-China as speedily as possible.

Mendes-France, who promised the nation peace in Indo-China by July 20 or his own resignation, won a thumping 433 to 23 vote of confidence from the assembly on the steps taken so far to make good his pledge.

The vote was taken on his request to postpone indefinitely questions on the composition of his cabinet to leave him free to concentrate on his end-the-war efforts.

The vote was 14-votes greater than he won on June 18 when he was approved by the assembly as the new leader of the French government.

Mendes-France reported on his meeting Wednesday in Bern, Switzerland, with the Communist premier and foreign minister.

"During the talks," he said, "we agreed to realize as rapidly as possible a settlement of the military problems."

Until now the Communist bloc in the Geneva Far East conference had insisted on discussion of political matters, such as elections, before or at least simultaneously with a military cease-fire.

But the "do-it-now" premier assured the assembly that he will win a cease-fire or resign.

A U.S. plan proposing that future disarmament and atomic development authority was also considered.

THREE OBJECTIVES

The Anglo-French plan proposed as a compromise between the previous Soviet and Western positions and backed by the U.S. and Canada, had three objectives.

1. Eventual total prohibition of the manufacture and use of all atomic, chemical and bacteriological weapons of mass destruction, and, where pos-

TAKE SCOTCH ALONG FOR VISIT TO VENUS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—If and when any space navigators ever reach the planet Venus, they'd better be equipped with rowboats—because two Harvard astronomers today offered a new theory that "an ocean of water completely covers the planet."

But take heart, you would-be space men. The astronomers said it may be an ocean of "carbonated" water—not too bad for a sociable scotch and soda as you pull on the oars.

"Because of the large amount of carbon dioxide in the Venusian atmosphere—the ocean would probably consist of seltzer water, although I daresay it would be rather flat," Dr. Donald Menzel smilingly told a reporter.

Sir Winston, Eden Off to Washington

Conservatives and Opposition Back Couple As They Leave for Important U.S. Talks

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Anthony Eden left for Washington in the strato-cruiser "Canopus" at 6:52 p.m. (11:52 p.m., PDT) today to meet President Eisenhower and try to resolve British-American differences in world affairs.

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons has given Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden a firm mandate for their important week-end talks in Washington.

Churchill and Eden, scheduled to leave for Washington tonight, both place great emphasis on what parliamentarians call the "feeling of the House." Wednesday night, in a Commons debate on Southeast Asia, there was no doubt what that feeling was.

Leaders of all parties warmly applauded Eden's exposition of Britain's policy. Labor leader Clement Attlee and Liberal leader Clement Davies in effect said amen to the underlying theme of Eden's remarks—that the United States could make things easier by relaxing its present attitude toward Communist China.

Eden's speech was devoted to outlining the progress made at the Geneva conference on Korea and Indo-China. His chief new proposal was that in addition to a NATO-type organization for Southeast Asia there might also be a kind of Locarno pact for the area.

NO REAL PROGRESS

On Korea, Eden said "reluctantly" that no real progress had been made at Geneva toward bridging the gap between the contesting sides.

On Indo-China, there still seemed a "chance" of agreement. He called the proposed Southeast Asia pact a future safeguard rather than a present panacea, thus again underlining the difference of approach between the U.S. and Britain on ways of meeting Communist infiltration in Asia.

"It should be clear to all," the foreign secretary said, "that the hopes of agreement will be jeopardized if active military operations in Indo-China were to be intensified while negotiations for an armistice are proceeding at Geneva."

EXPRESSED HOPE

Eden referred to the absence of normal diplomatic relations at Geneva, something which he said was unique in his experience. This was obviously a reference to the lack of contact between the Chinese and U.S. delegations at Geneva.

Eden acted as a kind of liaison man at Geneva. A Canadian delegate called him the "indispensable man" of the conference.

Newspapers of all political complexions today expressed hope that the Washington trip will smooth over differences and bring new accords with the U.S.

"The politicians on both sides of the Atlantic who believe that the alliance is expendable fly in the face of all the facts," declared The Times.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express which usually supports the Conservative government, noted that Eden Wednesday did not once mention the name of State Secretary Dulles of the U.S. during his speech.

Workers Lower Sights; Settlement May Follow

By DAVE STOCK, City Hall Reporter

The first major break in the city outside-workers' strike came today, and there was hope for a quick settlement.

Outside workers offered new terms for settlement.

They called for a 3-cent-an-hour general increase, service pay for those with long service with the city and half MSA coverage.

The 3-cent general raise is 2 cents less than the city offered the men just over a week ago when negotiations broke down. The city's final offer was 5 cents; the union asked for 7.

Request for service pay is entirely new angle, however, and it was understood City Manager Cecil Wyatt and City Comptroller Dennis Young were working out figures this afternoon to see just how much this would cost each year.

Both police and firemen have received service pay for some time, and inside workers will be entitled to 5 cents a day for every five years service under terms of their new contract which has just been negotiated.

VOTED UPON

The union forwarded its new proposal to the city shortly before noon. The membership voted on the proposal at a meeting Wednesday night.

Ray Wootten, union business agent, carried the proposal to the city. He met with City Manager Wyatt, Ald. William Pinfold and Ald. Arthur Dowell for about an hour.

NO DISCUSSION

None of those taking part would discuss what transpired except that Ald. Pinfold said the city comptroller was "working out figures" which he indicated would be submitted to city council at a meeting this afternoon.

The council meeting was set to begin at 2.

Today marked the beginning of the second week of the strike by the city's 250 outside workers. It has been estimated that the strike has cost the workmen and saved the city $21,000 since it began Thursday of last week.

WIRE BRIEFS

Crop Duster Killed

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—Pilot Jack Allen, 24, operator of Alton Air Services at Medicine Hat, was instantly killed today when his plane struck a wind-charger while he was crop-dusting on a farm near Winnifred, Alta., about 60 miles east of Brandon.

Dikes at Brandon are still holding, but an evacuation order to residents of low-lying areas of the city is expected shortly.

Flood Threat Endangers Brandon Area

WINNIPEG (CP)—The flood threat in Manitoba became more serious today with an announcement by Premier D. L. Campbell that the water level at Brandon is expected to rise another five feet before the end of the month.

"High flood crests on the upper Assiniboine River have now moved well into Manitoba," the premier said. He added that the river now appears to have passed its peak at Roblin, and has now reached high stages at Millwood and St. Lazare, points approximately 100 miles north of Brandon.

Dikes at Brandon are still holding, but an evacuation order to residents of low-lying areas of the city is expected shortly.

Terry Remanded

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cecil Terry, 41, was remanded to July 2 when he appeared in police court today charged with murder in connection with the hammer-slaying of his wife.

Crop Support Backed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate agriculture committee today rejected the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support program, voting 8 to 7 to extend rigid supports for another year.

Guatemala Protests to UN Against Mass Bombing Threat

(From UP and AP Dispatches) UNITED NATIONS, NEW YORK—Guatemala told the United Nations today that the anti-Communist rebels have threatened mass bombings of Guatemalan cities within 24 hours and demanded an emergency meeting of the Security Council to deal with the situation.

The government, in telegrams addressed to all Security Council members, said "more than 45 cities and villages" already have been bombed and strafed by rebel planes.

"Guatemala lacks the means to repel such criminal attacks," the message said.

The demand for Security Council action said he was still considering the Guatemalan request.

The message was transmitted this morning to Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., U.S. delegate and council president for June.

There was no immediate reaction from Lodge. The U.S. delegation said he was still considering the Guatemalan request.

The revelation led to speculation that Thorne may have had a tryst with a young woman who was possibly the last person to see him alive.

Meanwhile, Thorne's mother and fiance opened a legal battle over his $1,300,000 fortune.

The weapons in the court fight were two-wills filed within an hour of each other in probate court yesterday.

One, drafted only 10 days before the young heir's death, left half his legacy to his pretty blonde fiancee, 18-year-old Maureen Ragen. The will left a quarter share to Miss Ragen's lawyer.

Thorne's lawyer, Jay Stough, has said the young heir feared he wouldn't reach his 21st birthday when he ordered his will changed. Thorne asked that a thorough investigation be launched if he died, the lawyer said.

Attorneys for the mother said they would contest the changed will. They would charge "undue influence" and perhaps other factors, they said.

JUST for the RECORD

PROGRESS—Now we have extendable table cloths. You simply zip on another panel to the cloth.

This innovation is one of many new and unusual items on display at the summer home furnishings market in Chicago.

Another is the "magic Aladdin" lamp. It has no external switch. You turn it on or off by touching anywhere on the lamp. An electronic device built into the ceramic base does the rest.

A table with a reversible plastic top enables her to change her color scheme with a flip of the wrist. It has a top white on one side and a choice of colors on the other.

SOLUTION—In New York sometimes the fur flies between husband and wife concerning whether they should buy a new car or get a mink for mama.

A Bronx auto agency claims it has solved this problem thus: Buy a new car and get mink stole valued at $786.

Martin W. Franklin, agency sales manager, Wednesday said the offer is effective until July 4.

How's it going? Three stores have gone out with cars, Franklin said, and there have been two dozen telephone calls seeking further information.

TYPES: In Shawnee, Okla., Howard Jacobus of Seminole, Okla., says he knows what it's like to have "the world drop in on you."

Jacobus landed his private plane at the municipal airport yesterday, and moments later a second plane landed on top of him.

"I heard a big noise, and if you ever had the world drop in on you, you know how I felt," he said. He was unhurt.

PAGING HOPALONG: In Los Angeles, Lloyd Harry Thomas, 41, is going to leave gun twirling to "them fellers" in the movies.

As Thomas twirled a .38 calibre revolver western-style it slipped from his hand, fell to the floor and fired a spray of bullets that wounded him in both legs.

HOSTAGE: In Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Lucille Price stood guard over an auto chained to a tree in her yard today and declared: "That's where it's going to stay until I'm paid."

The auto careened off a bridge and knocked Mrs. Price's screened porch from its foundation Tuesday night. The occupants fled.

GUNNERS OUT TONIGHT FOR SUNSET RITE

Tonight at 8:30 personnel of the 75th (B.C.) HAA Regt., R.C.A., the 5th (B.C.) Coast Regt., R.C.A., and the 8th AAOR will parade at the Legislative Buildings for retreat and flag lowering sunset ceremonies.

In command will be 2nd-Lieut. Ken Larson of the 75th Regt. The regimental band under direction of WO Alex Hill will attend. Color-sergeant will be Sgt. J. Hill.

PRESIDENT GUZMAN COL. ARMAS

Guatemala Revolution Seen 'Petering Out'

Lack of Organization, Transport, Interest
Blamed for Rebels' Lacklustre Performance

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News
Editor

A revolution aimed at throwing out the Red-tainted regime of Guatemalan President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman seems to be petering out today for lack of organization, transport and interest.

In fact, if it were not for the Communist issue involved, the whole affair might now be written off as just another comic-opera revolt in which no one got hurt and nothing happened.

The "liberation" move, led by Col. Castillo Armas, got underway last Friday across the Honduras border and by Saturday had reached full fanfare.

Rebel airplanes flew over Guatemala City and dropped high explosives whose effect was questionable.

Description of the planes varied. The Guatemalan government labelled them P-47s, which would make them Second World War Thunderbolts.

Observers said they were light Cessnas and Piper Cubs.

Official Guatemalan communiques told of fierce fighting in which the rebels were thrown back with heavy casualties.

On Tuesday, U.S. State Department spokesmen Lincoln Whitté said in Washington that he had no report from U.S. diplomats in Central America that a single life has yet been lost in the Guatemalan revolt. Guatemala City, he said, was quiet.

This week, for the first time, United States correspondents most of whom have covered wars, reached Castillo's "capital" at Equipul.

They found the former chief of the Guatemalan air force hopeful but admittedly bogged down in mud, lack of organization and transportation facilities there.

At Meadow Park, land leveling has been completed preparatory to laying blacktop on the play area.

Canadian Postal Employees, (inside workers), have erected a new fence at the Oak Street playground as a volunteer service.

Saanich-municipal council provides each park with $210 for permanent improvements. All work, apart from plumbing and wiring, is done by volunteers, who also supervise children during the summer schedule.

A sports playoff with all playgrounds participating is planned for later in the season, and Saanich police and fire departments will demonstrate equipment on playgrounds at least once this summer.

BIG DES MOINES CREST RACES THROUGH CITY

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—The raging Des Moines River roared through this city today at a record crest of just over 30 feet—18 feet higher than its normal flow. But flood defense officials crossed their fingers and said "we think we've got it whipped."

A three-day battle, first to raise the levees and then to hold them against the pounding waters, is in its climactic hours. All major dikes were holding. No lives had been lost.

The crest was 3½ feet higher than the official peak reached in the 1947 Des Moines flood, when a major levee gave way and flooded a riverside residential area.

Traffic Jam at First Narrows Delays CPR Ferry, Freighter

VANCOUVER (CP)—A massive traffic jam occurred at the First Narrows entrance to Vancouver harbour today, delaying the Princess Elaine's departure for Nanaimo, by half an hour and forcing an incoming sea freighter to make a wide turn around English Bay.

The jam occurred when three log booms were being towed through the Narrows beneath Lions Gate bridge during the change of tides at 7:30 a.m.

Two tugs, the H and R and the Point Grey Bell, were handling the first tow. The Kathy Kay and the Rodney were on the second, but only the Sea Roll was on the third.

Meanwhile, the freighter Charlie E. Kant was approaching from well out in the opposite direction and made a swing around English Bay before proceeding into the harbour. The Elaine cleared the Narrows for Nanaimo shortly before 8 a.m.

Research Rubber Centre Planned

TORONTO (CP)—The formation of a North American research centre by the Dunlop Rubber Co., England, was announced here Tuesday by James P. Anderson, president and general manager of Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company.

Much of the centre's activity will be concerned with products of the petrochemical and synthetic rubber industries, he said.

The centre will also conduct research related to mining, road and vehicle engineering, textiles, plastics, and compounding chemicals to prolong the life of tires and other rubber products.

Fresh from Kellogg's

"You're too late, Daddy!"

Little teases with big bowlfuls don't give a pig-tailed whoop that more families ran out of Corn Flakes morning than any other cereal. But it does happen, because Kellogg's Corn Flakes naturally taste best to more people. Always have. Still do. No wonder so many women pick up a spare package of Kellogg's Corn Flakes every time they buy any cereal of any kind. It's real good "tomorrow morning insurance".

To suit every family's need, Kellogg's now offers the new Handi-Pak, too... eight handy "personal portion" boxes of Corn Flakes just right for individual servings.

Harry Pooley Dead, Famed Conservative

He Was Esquimalt MLA for 25 Years, Former B.C. A-G, Private Rites Friday

Esquimalt-born Robert Henry "Harry" Pooley, a staunch Conservative and one of the last of British Columbia's old-time politicians, died Wednesday evening in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was 75.

Mr. Pooley was Esquimalt's MLA for a quarter of a century. He entered the Legislature in 1912 and served until 1937.

He was for four years leader of the opposition, and when the Tolmie government took over in 1928 he became attorney-general, a post he held for five years.

During that time he was regarded as one of the most able debaters in the House. "Fiery" was the word most used to describe Harry Pooley in debate.

When he declined to run for public office in 1937, Mr. Pooley declared he was through with politics.

"When I quit, I quit," he maintained. But Harry Pooley never did. At almost every election since, Mr. Pooley was somewhere in the picture.

POLITICAL FIRE HORSE

Close friends likened him to "an old fire horse who just couldn't stand idly by when the fire bell sounded." Mr. Pooley considered it a fair description. He acknowledged that he enjoyed campaigning.

In 1931, at an Esquimalt meeting, he called the then Liberal premier, T. D. Pattullo, "a damned liar" and said he should get "a good swift kick in the pants."

In 1938, when Esquimalt Conservatives were growing tired of Coalition Conservative Leader Herbert Anscomb asked Mr. Pooley to keep the Esquimalt group in Coalition. Mr. Pooley subsequently went to an election meeting, announced he was not taking orders from Mr. Anscomb and called the Coalition candidate, Percy George, "carrot bagger."

NATIVE OF ESQUIMALT

Born in Esquimalt September 19, 1878, Mr. Pooley carried on in politics where his father left off. The father, Charles Edward Pooley, was at one time Speaker of the B.C. Legislature.

The son was educated in private schools in Victoria and then sent to Bradfield College, Berkshire, England, to complete his formal studies. He graduated in 1896 and was then articled to his father's law firm, being admitted to the bar in 1901. The business became known as Pooley, Luxton & Pooley.

In 1904, Mr. Pooley married Laura Loewen, daughter of the founder of Victoria-Phoenix Brewery. She died in 1921. He married again in 1926 to Mary Louise Tillings, of Providence, Rhode Island.

A keen sportsman, Mr. Pooley was particularly fond of cricket, tennis and golf. He was an early-day motoring enthusiast as well.

As a young man, he belonged to the 5th Regiment and held the rank of lieutenant. In later years, his garden was his primary hobby.

Besides his wife, he is survived by his daughters, Mrs. R. H. Tye and Mrs. D. W. Groos, both of Victoria; three sisters: Alice Pooley, of Victoria; Mrs. S. C. Sweeney of Vancouver, and Lady Stanley of London, Eng., and seven grandchildren.

A private funeral service will be held at the family home on Friday. Cremation will follow.

SUPREME COURT CHOICE

Mr. Justice Roy L. Kellogg, 60, is considered likely to be the government's choice as a successor to Chief Justice Thibaudine Rinfret who retired from the Supreme Court of Canada this month at the age of 75. Mr. Justice Kellogg gained fame as a royal commissioner investigating the Sojourner spy ring in 1945, the Halifax VE day riot in 1945, the 1949 Noronic ship disaster and the 1950 rail strike. He is a native of Perth, Ont. (CP Photo).

Government and the Truth

THE SOCIAL CREDITERS OF British Columbia no doubt will be interested in any public utterance by Mr. Hansell, member of Parliament for Macleod, because he largely organized Social Credit's original victory here. A few days ago Mr. Hansell revealed his inner thinking, on a vital issue, to the House of Commons. It is to be hoped that the Bennett Government will note and repudiate his views.

Mr. Hansell assured the House that he was devoted to the freedom of the press. Mr. Pickersgill, the Secretary of State, interrupted to ask Mr. Hansell if he were thus renouncing the famous Alberta Press Act of the Aberhart Government. Mr. Hansell tried to argue in reply that this legislation "in no sense of the word" constituted "control of the press . . . What the Press Act did was this, that when a falsehood was given out in a news report of government activity, then the government had the right to correct that report . . . The government claimed the right to correct that which was false by law."

This convenient excuse was quickly punctured by Mr. Stanley Knowles, of the C.C.F. He asked who, under the Alberta law, would determine the truth. The answer, of course, is that the government would determine it. And that is precisely why the Supreme Court of Canada threw out the Alberta law, holding that no provincial legislature can force the press to print or suppress anything.

All this may seem to belong to past history, since the Aberhart Government failed in its attack on press freedom. In fact, the recent House of Commons discussion is highly relevant to current events. In the first place it reveals the mind of such Social Credit prophets as Mr. Hansell and, secondly, it emphasizes the menace of the Quebec Government's new Freedom of Worship Act, a statute designed to give the Provincial Government control not only of the press but of free assembly, free speech, of motion pictures and of television.

Mr. Hansell and Mr. Duplessis—interesting companions in this matter—do not admit, of course, that their philosophy endangers free discussion in the press or elsewhere. They hold simply that governments, apparently by their miraculous nature, are better able than anyone else to decide what is true and what is false.

Therefore, says Mr. Hansell, the Alberta Government was quite justified in attempting to force the press to tell the truth about public business and to correct its own errors. In practical fact, as Mr. Hansell well knows, governments in Canada are always able to correct false reports. No Canadian newspaper, so far as we know, ever refuses to print a government statement, whether it is true or not, and that is the clear duty of the press.

But once the press is compelled by law to print anything, its freedom—and the freedom of all public discussion—is instantly threatened, for there is no end to this kind of invasion but state censorship, like that of all totalitarian countries.

The theory announced by Mr. Hansell in Parliament is simply based on the premise that government always knows what is true and what is best for the people when obviously all governments are making mistakes and changing their minds every day. Moreover, all governments have a vested interest in twisting and sugar-coating the news to suit their own political convenience.

The press, too, makes many errors but so long as it is free and open to all opinions the truth, or as much of the truth as the human mind can discover, emerges in the course of democratic debate.

The real danger of Social Credit thinking in Alberta and Mr. Duplessis' thinking in Quebec, is that, enforced by law, it would destroy that debate piecemeal.

Unfortunately Mr. Hansell still defends the undemocratic philosophy of the discredited Alberta Press Act in Parliament today. It is to be hoped that he has no secret sympathizers in the Social Credit Government of British Columbia, which he helped to elect.

R. H. Pooley, QC

GREATER VICTORIANS AND people from all walks of life further afield today paid tribute to the memory of R. H. Pooley, QC.

Their words bore evidence of the esteem in which they held the grand old man of the British Columbia Conservative Party, not only as a great servant of the public and an old Victorian, but as a person of high integrity and devoted loyalty to the principles he cherished.

Harry Pooley was born in Esquimalt. He was its champion and his people never failed in the support they gave him. In the Legislature where his father had at one time been

First elected in 1912, he survived his political familiars of the McBride administration and served with distinction as Attorney-General in the Tolmie government. His was a strict adherence to principles in public life, an abiding sense of the responsibility of office and an outspoken political courage which won him universal respect.

As an individual he was a staunch friend, a gracious host, a lover of sport and man among men in the outdoors.

Lessons in Water Safety

TWICE THIS WEEK PEOPLE skilled in different types of water safety have averted serious and, in one case, fatal accidents.

Because Raymond Bell, 15-year-old Mount Douglas High School student and Sea Cadet, could swim competently and because Leonard Mann, 32, hospital orderly knew how to apply artificial respiration, 11-year-old Gary Quick is alive today. Between them the two rescuers took him from the bottom of Beaver Lake and resuscitated him.

A day later Gerry Stinson, 15-year-old Hollywood Crescent boy, pulled two younger lads from the cold waters of Foul Bay after their borrowed boat had foundered.

Seeds of Its Own Defeat

THE MONTREAL GAZETTE very rightly begs to differ with a statement which it says is being heard in various parts of the United States today. That statement is: "There's no wrong way to fight Communism."

Such an opinion is being used to support arguments in favor of McCarthyism. The reasoning is that no matter what you do, if it is against communism it must be good. But the methods and results of the McCarthy forces are proof enough that mere anti-communism is not enough.

To accept the dictum is to believe, for instance, that the methods of Hitler and Mussolini were good, for both these worthies were against communism and used their strong opposition to it as part of their strategy in climbing to power. There is little to be preferred, surely, between the two tarred ends of a stick. Obviously it is to be grasped cleanly in the middle.

Extremism of one ideology can lead only to attempts to impose the opposite extreme. It is the middle course, the area of compromise, of co-operation, of protection for minority rights, for which democracy is needed.

The net effect of both extreme right and extreme left is to deprive the individual of freedom, to regiment communities, to make each man and woman a cog in the state machine. The evil of the one cannot be defeated by imposing the evil of the other. But that is a truth which the admirers of Mr. McCarthy will not recognize.

LOOSE ENDS

The Voice and the Mind

SOMETIMES, in the fury of Congressional debate, the impatient outside world wonders if the genius of the American people is concentrated mainly in the voice rather than the mind. The voice has been pretty strident in the mouths of such men as Senator McCarthy. Behind this sound, little noted by foreigners, the mind has been furiously at work also, and lately has uttered its inner conclusions through two of the greatest living Americans.

Because their testimony is far more important but less exciting than the testimony of Congressional committees it has not been widely reported. The truth about great affairs is seldom exciting—but anyone who has read a speech by Mr. Walter Lippmann, in California, and by Mr. Adlai Stevenson, in New York, must realize that the real genius of the American people—so often obscenely caricatured abroad—is unimpaired and still as powerful as when it built the world's leading nation.

MR. LIPPAMAN begins by observing the first fact of our time—namely, that western civilization, which bestrides the world like a colossus in the nineteenth century, its writ running to the most remote wilderness, has suffered, in the twentieth, a sudden loss of power. For the first time since the Middle Ages not only its power but its validity has been seriously challenged by a counter-revolution, masquerading in the name of progress.

This sudden counter-revolution has caught the western world completely unprepared and its leader, the United States, is reeling under responsibilities which it never expected, for which its system was never built. In a crisis unlike any other since the fall of the Roman Empire, it is hardly surprising that many Western statesmen can think of nothing better than hysteria, preventive wars and hoarse screaming at the keyholes of government.

BUT, as Mr. Lippmann says, we shall make no progress toward the recovery of our power until we first face a reappraisal far wider, deeper and more agonizing than any yet proposed by Mr. Dulles. We must face, as we have not yet faced, the clear fact that our Western civilization, after centuries of universal acceptance, is now on trial for the first time and for its life.

While Mr. Lippmann was speaking in California Mr. Stevenson went to New York and at Columbia University revealed those secret conclusions which are not likely to appear in a Presidential election. The inevitable tragedy of a statesman in office, like Mr. Eisenhower, is that he can seldom, if ever, express all his thoughts candidly, however honest he may be. Mr. Stevenson, being out of office and relatively independent, can say what he really thinks, and happily Mr. Stevenson is that rare phenomenon, a philosopher in politics.

HE begins by observing that American civilization is a far greater affair than many Americans and most foreigners realize. Among other things, its prosperity has made socialism "obsolete" and revealed dictatorship; apart from its brutality, as a crude and blundering instrument. Still, Mr. Stevenson, like Mr. Lippmann, is under no illusions: He finds his people at a watershed of their life. They have come so far, with unparalleled success, by their own existing methods.

To Be Treated Like an Enemy

BY JOSEPH and STEWART

ALSO, FROM WASHINGTON

THERE is to be no more appeasing of McCarthy. On the contrary, McCarthy is to be recognized for what he is—the president's most dangerous enemy—and treated accordingly.

Somehow, for all their ingenuity, their cunning machines, their foolproof Constitution and their confident slogans, the Americans are not ready for this crisis. They are not ready, Mr. Stevenson thinks, because they have concerned themselves too much with the work of the hands and too little with the work of the mind, too much with modern material progress and too little with old-fashioned principles and the early faith of their fathers.

PUTTING IT another way, one might say that the crisis of America consists of one simple question, equally involving every human being alive. It is not a question measurable by military or economic power, the only measurement recognized by the Communists, the only measurement usually discussed in Western political debate. It is measurable only in the terms used by Mr. Stevenson.

The question, in short, is not whether Western civilization has the physical power to survive its crisis but whether it deserves to survive by its inner worth—that is to say, by its mind, not its hands; by its spirit not by its body. That test the enemy rejects as absurd, as it is also rejected by many Westerners. Mr. Stevenson thinks it is the final and unavoidable test, which his people and all free people are now entering. If the reading public is not interested in such reflections it does not know either the real mind of the American people or its own crisis.

A WOMAN'S OUTLOOK

By RUTH ENKE

Dogs and Hats

"IT'S me dogs. They bin killin' me all day," puffed the stout woman as she plonked herself down in the seat next mine at the shoe store and thankfully shucked off her high-heeled pumps.

She sat, massaging her toes, and telling me about the miseries of feet, and how she'd suffered with her "dogs" all her life.

It was such a human conversation that we quite re-sented the sales clerk when, at last, he came to interrupt us.

Shoe stores, especially cheap ones, seem to me the saddest places. Human beings appear there at their most forlorn. Even a smart woman loses a little of her glamour when seated, shoeless, in the public gaze. The rest of us look terrible. Those poor misshapen lumps of flesh and bone that we call feet! Calloused from walking on hard pavements, twisted from years of imprisonment in shoes swollen with standing, they're definitely not a joy forever.

Some feet may trip the light, fantastic toe, run to meet a lover, spring lightly from sheer joie de vivre. There may be printless feet upon the sands of time.

But they are not the feet we see in shoe stores. The feet that I see there make me understand why so many of us hope we'll die with our boots on!

In a shoe store, all the shoddy little secrets are revealed; the sock darned with wool of another hue, especially in places where normally it wouldn't show; the hole that was only a thin spot in the morning, but now gapes to reveal a nubby toe.

No, shoe stores are for the strong, and for those unmoved by the miseries of mankind.

A hat store is different. There's humanity there, too, but it's humanity in a hopeful mood.

I know a woman, a dumpy little creature whose skin is wrinkled now, and whose once-black hair is streaked with grey.

She loves to buy a hat, and tries on all the salesgirl brings her.

But those she loves most are the tiny, feminine frivolous ones. When she tries these on, she takes the hand mirror and turns her head from side to side so that she can see herself from every angle.

There's a girlish, almost roguish smile on her face at such moments. To onlookers, she seems a ridiculous old woman. To herself, she is once again a pretty girl.

Her white-haired husband, who is a darling, never laughs at her when she takes home some ridiculous little hat.

She always puts it on for him first thing.

And he always pretends that she looks sweet in it. "Why, darling, that reminds me of a pretty hat you had years ago." I've heard him say. "Do you remember? You wore it with a blue dress to that picnic where I first met you at the lake."

It isn't a bit like the lakeside hat, and the dress happened to be mauve, but, after years of marriage, she's learned to let him think that he is right.

They smile at one another, remembering their meeting. And when he kisses her with the gentle kiss of habit and old age, she thinks with wistful amusement of the slim eager girl she used to be, and of that lakeside picnic long ago.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Yehudi Menuhin Writes

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is the concert violinist, Yehudi Menuhin.)

NEW YORK—India is a land of incredible beauty and fascination, of tremendous contrasts in living standards and, like the ocean, forever unfathomable. I cannot, of course, speak of this land as someone who has lived there for a long time, let alone one who was born and raised there. My picture of India is merely one seen through the eyes of a foreigner.

During my two visits to this country I was impressed above all by the spontaneous courtesy of the people, their belief in a simple life and their ability for utter relaxation of mind and body. Due to the fact that India is not a technocracy, its middle class is fairly small. Also, due to this fact, the so-called slums in the big cities are not as terribly depressing and dirty as those of the western cities. In Bombay, for instance, which in many respects is as modern as any city on our continent or in Europe, the slum section consists of straw huts. Here the Indian sleeps on the ground or on straw pallets. Here he sits for hours cross-legged on the floor, chewing his betel nut. He probably owns no more than one piece of clothing, his "doti," which he washes before every meal. Often he will walk into the water with the doti on and then let it dry on the body, a process which only takes 10 minutes due to the great heat.

The Indian is tremendously fastidious and clean and extremely handsome. The average man is lithe of build and healthy. One reason, I believe, for the amazing vitality of his body is the fact that the real Indian does not sit in chairs or sleep on soft mattresses. I am speaking, of course, of the working or peasant class. The upper class, which has adopted many elements of western culture, lives in many respects as we do.

The women, in their brightly colored saris, live in the same manner. It is a fascinating sight to see them walking down the street, with their elegant bearing and sinuous walk, carrying baskets on their heads and babies on their hips. One of the child's legs goes across the mother's front, the other around her back.

The man in the town does whatever work he can find. But the man in the country works only about six months of the year. During the hot summer months he relaxes and merely takes care of himself and his family. Aside from farmers, we also find the people who work in the "Cottage Industry," an industry of handicrafts, encouraged by Ghandi in order to avoid mass-migration to the city. During their leisure time these people sit in their homes or endlessly walk up and down through the villages.

Curred rice with spiced vegetables is, of course, the main diet. The Hindu is not supposed to eat meat, although some of the more sophisticated Hindu class has now abolished this custom. The most general drink is "Neera," derived from a certain palm. In Bombay, where we encounter prohibition, it must be drunk within 24 hours as it becomes too alcoholic in content after that time.

There is little entertainment for the poor Indian. Only the middle class can afford to sit through the endless movie showings. Interestingly enough, the Indian film industry is the second largest in the world.

At the head of this amazing country stands Pandit Nehru, a man who might well be described as having a western-trained mind and eastern heart—a man who works as hard as anyone I have encountered.

Although he likes music, he does not listen to records, as far as I know, because there simply is no time for it in his day. I consider myself, therefore, very flattered that he attended most of the concerts which I played in India two years ago and this past April. Upon my inquiry this did not mean giving up too much of his time, he answered, "It is good for me, for aside fromliking to listen to the music, I can also think about the important problems of the day."

The reaction of Indian audiences to western music is most gratifying. I must state, of course, that I only played for those Indians who had come in close contact with our way of life, nor for the working or peasant class, since they cannot afford to go to concerts.

I would say that Indians like best music of a meditative and spiritual kind. This is, of course, logical, since they refresh their mind and body through meditation and spiritual concentration. It is interesting, for instance, that there is a tendency in the western world to play the works of Bach and Beethoven too fast, to please the demands of our highly stimulated minds. I believe that an Indian playing our music would never make this mistake.

To a great degree, the Indian ability to relax must be traced back to the age-old science of Yoga, a highly complicated series of exercises. In contrast with other body-building exercises, Yoga is not based on muscular strain and physical exertion, nor does it exclude the mind. It is to me the perfect balance between relaxation of mind and body. I first came upon Yoga when I bought a book about this science in New Zealand. I started to teach myself the basic exercises, and ever since my first visit to India, when I received some thorough instructions, I have become quite efficient in it.

Yoga is only one of the many things which have made India a unique place among the more than 50 countries I have visited.

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—The trial continues today of Louis Chizmazia, charged with perjury following a fire marshal's inquiry into the burning of his Castlegar house last July.

At the inquiry, Chizmazia said he was at his home at Renata on the Arrow Lakes when the fire broke out, but witnesses said they saw the accused in Castlegar vicinity half an hour later, deputy fire marshal B. O. Nixon told the court.

5 Interior Trade Boards Ask Ottawa For Policy Statement on Gas Line Subsidy

CASTLEGAR, B.C. (CP)—Delegates to the quarterly executive meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of south eastern B.C. have expressed concern over B.C.'s retarded industrial expansion.

The 25 delegates to the meeting held here Wednesday will ask the federal government for a statement of policy on government subsidies for natural gas pipe lines.

The request for government policy on natural gas lines followed a discussion on the recent rejection by the U.S. government of an application of Canadian gas to the Pacific Northwest.

Delegates to the meeting also passed a resolution urging the provincial government to take immediate action on the sale of crown-owned Doukhobor lands. Speakers favoring the resolution said the present situation is paralyzing the development of many scenic spots in the interior.

TRANS-POLAR PASSENGER FLIGHTS START OCT. 1

EDMONTON (BUP)—A Swedish government agency reported today that trans-polar airline service between California and Scandinavia, with a stopover in Edmonton, will start about Oct. 1.

The report, received here from the Swedish internal press bureau, said the United States government had given final approval to the new air route.

An unidentified American airline was said to be working with Scandinavian airlines in the trans-polar flying scheme. The new route would be about 1,000 shorter than the conventional route between Los Angeles and Copenhagen across the Atlantic.

90,000 Reds in B.C. Blackmore Charges

Tells Commons Communists May Be Planning To 'Take Over' Province; Government Silent

OTTAWA (BUP)—John Blackmore (SC, Lethbridge) ran into a curtain of secrecy when he tried to pry information out of the government Wednesday night on what Canada was doing to combat Communism.

Blackmore, a self-admitted ardent admirer of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, raised the issue of Communism in Canada as the Commons debated the RCMP appropriations under Justice Minister Stuart Garson's demands.

There are some 15,000,000 people in Canada who are depending on us for their security and who don't want to see a Guatemala in Canada or any part of Canada," he said.

Blackmore was ruled out of order for discussing the broad question of international Communist conspiracy on the detailed appropriations of the RCMP. D. R. Michener (PC, Toronto St. Paul's) pointed out that the Mounties' jurisdiction hardly extended into southeast Asia, one of the areas covered by Blackmore's speech.

The minister, however, refused replies because they would divulge secrets of Canada's counter-espionage measures. He said no group would be happier to know the answers to Blackmore's questions than the Communists.

Blackmore cited the present situation in Guatemala. He said he imagined the Communists "had all that planned five years ago."

"I just hope they're not planning British Columbia next," he added. He said that the Communists "certainly have the stage all set for British Columbia . . ."

He quoted from "a rather alarming article" which he said appeared in the Financial Post some time ago. It stated there were 90,000 Communists in British Columbia, he said.

"And they're probably all ready to march," he said.

Garson defended Toronto journalist J. B. McGeachy who, Blackmore said, had followed the Communist line in radio talks on international affairs. Garson said he knew McGeachy well, that he was not a Communist "by any stretch of the imagination" and that he was "a loyal Canadian."

SITTING DUCKS

Blackmore contended that "as a nation or as individuals, we are not taking Communism seriously enough." He said his impression of Canada was that "we're all here like a lot of sitting ducks (and) letting the Communists blaze away at us."

Communism and its "cold war" tactics, he said, "just has us completely dazzled and completely bewildered." The government and Canadians generally hadn't "done anything to meet the offensive coming from Communist countries in this cold war against us."

When you make strawberry shortcake with a Shirriff's White Cake Mix, you get a light, tender base for your sugared, whole berries . . . no need to crush them for extra moisture. Because this is the mix that lets you add your own fresh milk, to get the tender moist texture you need . . . the creamy, fresh flavor those strawberries deserve.

Now you can have strawberry shortcake with those big, plump, juicy whole berries that you love! Just use the mix that matches the berries for freshness and tenderness . . . a Shirriff's White Cake Mix.

Strawberry Shortcake Supreme

Bake your Shirriff's White Cake Mix in two 8" layers. Turn them out, and when they're cool, put plenty of glistening scarlet-ripe, sugared whole berries between the layers and heap plenty more on top. Be lavish with the whipped cream. Your family will be lavish with the praise! They'll say Strawberry Shortcake Supreme "takes the cake."

And it does! It takes the cake mix that lets you add your own fresh milk . . . a Shirriff's White Cake Mix!

Commonwealth Talks Possible Subject By PMs

OTTAWA (CP) — The prime ministers of the United Kingdom and Canada, meeting here June 30, likely will consider the feasibility of bringing the Commonwealth countries together in another conference to review the shaky world situation.

Prime Minister St. Laurent gave a hint of this in the Commons Wednesday as Opposition Leader Drew renewed his appeal for a Commonwealth meeting to show the world how a meeting of countries can be a success.

Mr. St. Laurent also said that a federal-provincial conference on the constitution, also requested by Mr. Drew, will be called "just as soon as we can have something concrete to delegate to that conference."

Meanwhile, the government is giving "serious consideration" to the suggestion by Premier Frost of Ontario that a preliminary meeting of senior technical officials be convened as a prelude to the broader federal-provincial talks.

WANTS SUMMER TALKS

Mr. Drew urged that the federal-provincial conference be called during Parliament's summer adjournment.

As for a commonwealth conference, Mr. Drew said the prime minister should take this up with Sir Winston Churchill, when the British prime minister and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, arrive here Tuesday for talks.

"Here is something which offers hope to us and to all the rest of the world . . . let no one fear that, in establishing more effective understanding within this great Commonwealth we would be in any way creating any barriers between ourselves and the United States. On the contrary, we would offer to them greater evidence of how other conferences can proceed."

EAST MUST LEAD

Mr. St. Laurent said about a Commonwealth meeting: "There is no doubt that is something that will arise in the course of the informal conversations we will be having with Churchill and Eden."

Outside the Commons, officials said that if another Commonwealth meeting is called, it likely will deal mainly with the Indo-China war and the role and policies of Commonwealth countries in Asia in dealing with Communist aggression.

COMMISSIONER COMMITTED TO HIGHER COURT

DUNCAN — A statutory charge against Vernon Lloyd Thompson, Lake Cowichan village commissioner, concerning a 16-year-old girl, was heard in camera Wednesday afternoon in Duncan police court.

The preliminary hearing lasted nearly two hours, at the end of which Thompson was committed by Col. J. H. Boyd, for trial in a higher court.

David R. Williams, appearing for the Crown, requested the police magistrate to exclude the public and press. Police said that the charge arose at Lake Cowichan on or about April 20. Thompson was represented by Robert C. Weir, Nanaimo.

Boston Doctor Plans Block In Nanaimo

NANAIMO — A realty company here has announced that a new subdivision is nearing completion, and that plans have been completed for the construction of a $150,000 16-unit apartment block.

Dr. T. Cosgrove, Boston, Mass., will build the apartment and a $30,000 home for himself at Beach Acres, overlooking the Black Ball ferry terminal.

Streets in the new subdivision will be named after early Spanish explorers. The new north end junior high school will be built on adjoining property. Homes in the area will range between $9,000 and $30,000 in price.

In anticipation of further development in the business section of the city, civic property opposite the Simpsons-Sears store will be rented by the city for six months, possibly as a parking lot.

90 Attend Dinner Held By Chamber

LADYSMITH — A total of 90 persons attended the first "Ladies' Night" conducted by the Chamber of Commerce here.

Malcolm MacKenzie, president, said the response of members, their wives, and friends has led the chamber to consider such an event as an annual affair.

Legion women's auxiliary catered for the event, held in the Legion Hall.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Haddock, Victoria, and W. J. Farnsworth, vice-president of the Nanaimo chamber, and Mrs. Farnsworth.

Mt. Brenton PTA Elects Officers

SAITAIR — Mount Brenton PTA has elected R. Wiecker as its president for the forthcoming year.

Mrs. J. Seaton has been named vice-president. Mrs. U. Tilley, secretary, and Mrs. George Hutchinson, treasurer.

Mrs. R. Williams will head the social committee. Mrs. F. Yaniw and Mrs. R. Chamberlin will share membership committee work. Mrs. Jean Maddin will handle publicity, and Mrs. J. Seaton will serve as the association's historian.

Former Alderman Seeks Election

NANAIMO — Former alderman George Addison is the first entry to announce his candidature in the forthcoming civic by-election, set for July 8.

The summer poll has been called because of the resignation of Lamont Ross from city council, following recent defeat of the cemetery-by-law.

BOOTS CUSTOM-BUILT

Sooke Men Competing in Idaho For World Log Birling Title

BY DOUGLAS FORRESTER

SOOKE — Two modest young Sooke residents this weekend will compete for the world's "Roleo" championship at Priest River, Idaho.

Jubiel Wickheim, 20, a spray contractor, and his brother, Ardiel, 24, a Cooper's Cove boom man, have done well in log birling contests on Vancouver Island, and now feel qualified to take on North America's best on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

They and two other men from Nova Scotia will be the only Canadians in the contest. Competing against them will be James Running of Eau Claire, Wis., who has lost only one match since 1941, and strong teams from elsewhere in Wisconsin and Washington, Oregon, and Idaho.

DIFFERENT STYLES

Midwest birlers specialize in a "pit-a-pat" style that takes advantage of a foe's mistakes and depends greatly on endurance. The far west log rollers use a rough, slugging, aggressive technique.

Jubiel, who won a second place in All-Sooke Day last year and a third at Courtenay, appears to combine both techniques. He practices on a cedar log six feet long and 14 inches in diameter that barely supports his weight. He feels that maintaining balance on the small log gives him speed.

Such conservatism, though, does not extend to their boots. Unlike the common logger's boot with 10-inch uppers and high heels, their birling footgear is custom-built for them in Oregon.

These special models are light, fitted like skating boots, and with laces to the toe. Holes in the sides let water out, and they are low with no notch under the heel. Except for their vicious, needle-sharp caulk, the boots look a little like women's "wedges" with their two-toned leather and flat sole.

W. Sharp Faces Theft Charge

DUNCAN — Former secretary-manager of the Cowichan Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition, William Sylvester Sharp, appeared in police court here Wednesday afternoon for a charge of theft by conversion, and was remanded until July 2.

The charge read that Sharp had received $1,187 from Pieter H. Groenewold and Willem Wiersma for the sale of two lots, of which is now being built the first Duncan Christian Reformed Church, the property of Melba Louis Schappert.

The charge was laid by Schappert, Sharp, escorted by Duncan RCMP, arrived here Wednesday. He was arrested on a warrant in North Bay, Ont., where he was stationed as a member of the RCAF.

Air force service police turned the accused over to RCMP at North Bay.

D. K. McAdam acted for the Crown in the hearing before Magistrate A. C. Sutton, and the accused was represented by David R. Williams.

After both lawyers had agreed that July 2 would be suitable for the hearing, Mr. Williams requested that his client be allowed bail. This was set at $5,000.

The strange thing about Kelvin Grove is that no boys have ever been born there.

Ald. Hamilton has lived there since 1927. He has four children. All girls, of course.

Sewage System Only Answer For View Royal

Installation of a sewage system in View Royal is the only way residents of the district will be able to get rid of its unsanitary sewage disposal, according to G. H. Watts, sanitary inspector for Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit. Mr. Watts was commenting on complaints of residents that the ditches in the district are clogged with refuse and sewage and are a danger to public health.

View Royal residents have requested the provincial department of public works to clean out the ditches.

Mr. Watts said cleaning out the ditches would not solve the problem of sewage. "A sewage system is the only answer to the problem," he said.

He urged the residents to form an improvement district under the Water Rights Act so that they could install a sewage system for their district.

Dr. A. N. Beattie of the Saanich Health Unit, was of the same opinion.

With regard to beliefs of some residents that the unsanitary ditches were responsible for two polio cases in View Royal last year, Dr. Beattie said he did not think so. There was no proven evidence yet that polio is carried by water, insects or anything like that, he said.

Retirement Regulations Changed

OTTAWA (CP) — Changes in retiring leave regulations for civil servants were announced Tuesday by the civil service commission.

Effective July 1, retiring leave is to be supplanted by a cash gratuity in the case of all voluntary separations, mainly resignations. In the case of involuntary separations, such as retirements on account of age, ill health or layoff, this change will not become effective until August 1, 1957.

Another change will provide uniformity in the scale of retiring leave or gratuity for both permanent and temporary civil servants. Temporary employees with less than five years' service now will be eligible for the same amount of leave or gratuity as permanent employees.

The commission turned over to government departments the authority to grant retiring leave or gratuity.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Cecil Terry, 41, will appear in court here today to hear a charge of murder formally read against him.

Terry was arrested on a city street less than 24 hours after his 38-year-old wife Catherine, mother of five, died in hospital from multiple brain injuries.

She was found brutally beaten at the Terry home Monday, and never regained consciousness.

Police believe a heavy hammer they are holding as evidence was used to inflict the crushing blows.

Terry was nabbed by a constable and after a short scuffle was taken into custody, handcuffed to a detective.

He had registered under an assumed name at a downtown hotel, police reported.

Police said that following his court appearance, it will probably be a week before the case

Rosslan Man Guilty Of Reckless Driving

NELSON (CP) — William Butorac of Rosslan was convicted on a reduced charge of reckless driving in supreme court here.

The charge arose from the death last November of Mrs. Elsie Turner, killed on the Trail-Fruitvale highway near Beaver Falls when she was struck by a car driven by Butorac.

Colquhoun Funeral Monday; Was Noted Mining Engineer

Funeral services will be held Monday at 3 p.m. at Hayward's Chapel for James Colquhoun, a distinguished mining and metallurgical engineer, who died in Victoria last week aged 96.

He was caught in the revolution and his book "Adventures in Red Russia" gives an interesting account of conditions there at the time. He was the author of several books printed for private circulation only.

Mr. Colquhoun was keenly interested in all sports during his stay here. Two of his grandsons have played on Victoria cricket fields. He is survived by a brother, J. Clifton Colquhoun, in England, five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren, nephews and nieces.

Miss Lillias W. Colquhoun, 103 Clare, is a niece and only relative in Victoria.

Born in Ireland in 1857, and educated in Scotland, Mr. Colquhoun came to America as a young man and as a mining engineer began his career in the copper mines of Clifton, Arizona. He worked with low-grade ore and achieved results which placed him in the front rank as a metallurgist and made him an authority in his field.

He was president of the Arizona Copper Co. and Arizona-New Mexico Railway Co. and shortly after the turn of the century retired from those positions because of ill health and returned to England to take up residence.

RUSSIAN INTERLUDE

During the First World War he was sent to Russia by the British government to take over management of the copper mines with a view to increasing the output of copper, at that time in short supply.

RETIREMENT RUMORED —

There was speculation in Montreal today that the city's permanent chief magistrate, Camille Houde, plans to retire. It was prompted by the appointment of Houde's diminutive bodyguard, Jacques Lambert, to a post in the city's purchasing and stores department. Houde has been mayor of Montreal for 18 years, with a break during the Second World War when he was interned for telling Montrealers to refuse to comply with national registration regulations. On retirement Houde will draw a $12,000-a-year pension.

Driver Escapes Runaway Truck Near Rossland

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—A Windsor, Ont., truck driver escaped injury Wednesday when his auto-laden truck raced down the Trail-Rossland highway after a brake failure and overturned in a field.

Eric May wrestled with the vehicle in an effort to avoid serious accident on this five-mile nightmare.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $1,000, and four new cars on the transporter were also damaged.

Eye-witnesses praised driver May for his courage in avoiding possible death to children in a nearby school yard. Fred McCallum, also of Windsor, a passenger in the truck, escaped with only a few cuts over an eye.

Credit Unions' Health Plan Throw Open

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—A major policy change announced Wednesday at the opening sessions of the 1954 convention of B.C. credit unions.

The change in policy affects the credit union and co-operative health services society which now will be open to the general public. The medical health plan was formerly restricted to credit union members in B.C. and at present has 30,000 members enrolled in the plan. The membership in the society's health ranks it second only to the Medical Services Association plan in medical insurance coverage.

Tom Wiltshire, general manager of the health services made the policy change announcement which was unanimously adopted by the 400 delegates to the three-day convention.

Sooke Contest Winner May Be Second Generation Baby

Annual All-Sooke Day on the Sooke River flats, to be held Saturday, July 24, once again will feature the Victoria Daily Times baby show.

This trophy was first donated in 1934, when the first large-scale All-Sooke Day was held.

Interest has never lagged since, and close to 60 sturdy, healthy youngsters are entered in the show each year.

Two well-known personalities always will be remembered in connection with the show. Dr. Russell B. Robertson, Victoria, judged all but the first few shows, retiring after the 1951 event.

Mrs. M. Roberson, Saseen os, had charge of arrangements for the first show, and was convener every year following until her death.

Mrs. R. G. Nixon, member of the Sooke School District health board and of Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute, had charge of the show in 1952 and last year, and will be convener again this year.

Early winners of the Times Trophy have married, and sponsors of the event look forward to seeing a victory for a second generation Sooke baby.

Winners of the Times award for the best baby in the show, and honors as best Sooke baby, were Anne Elizabeth Leiper and Heather Butler, respectively in 1953. In 1952 the winners were Walter Humphreys and Herme Koolman, and in 1951 Gordon Blow and Kenneth Essery led the field.

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1954

Premier Blamed For Strike Talk

Carney Confirms Unrest In B.C. Civil Service

The head of the 2,300-member Victoria local of the B.C. Government Employees' Association (TLC) today charged Premier W. A. C. Bennett with being primarily responsible for "growing unrest" and talk of strike action within the organization.

Victoria branch secretary Hiram Carney said the unrest is due to the lack of co-operation on the part of the government, and the cabinet's refusal to hear association job grievances and wage demands.

"I am not blaming the ministers," he said. "The trouble seems to be with the fountainhead."

Mr. Carney confirmed a report which appeared in the Times Wednesday quoting association president Carl Hauck as saying several branches have demanded the executive take an immediate strike vote.

"What he (Mr. Hauck) said is true right down the line," he said.

SWORN TO SECRECY

However, Mr. Carney said all executives of the civil servants union had been "sworn to secrecy" on negotiations with the government. "What irritates me is that the rest of us kept that secret. I don't like to be tongue-tied, and have my members phone to ask me why I haven't told them these things," he said.

Mr. Carney said that if Mr. Hauck spoke "without authority" he would ask for his resignation at a vital executive meeting slated for July 2.

The meeting was called to discuss Premier Bennett's statement last week that meetings between the association's grievance committee and the cabinet were discontinued "because certain people in the association were playing politics."

"ALL WASHED UP"

Mr. Carney also revealed that R. K. Gervin, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress Canada, who met the premier on June 10 in an attempt to soothe ruffled feelings between the cabinet and the association, was told that "things are all washed up."

The association executive was unable to accept this, and has asked Mr. Gervin to see the premier again to confirm the government stand.

This second meeting still has not been held.

IGNORED BY CABINET

The government has ignored repeated association requests for a meeting on piled up job grievances and wage demands since the last meeting was held in January, 1953.

Said Mr. Carney: "Former governments met with us. We didn't always win, but most of the time we did after they heard what we wanted."

"We can't get through to this government," he said.

The Victoria union head also charged that some association requests lodged with the Civil Service Commission, the government-appointed board which administers the Civil Service Act, have been approved by the commission, but "filed with the cabinet where they die."

WANT THREE-MAN BOARD

Mr. Carney said the association has been fighting for almost three years to get the government to bring the Civil Service Commission up to full strength.

"The commission hasn't been functioning as required by the act since Mr. Griffith (E. W. Griffith, B.C.'s deputy minister of welfare) resigned," he said.

"Under the act, the Civil Service Commission is to be made up of three members. For three years the work has been done by deputy finance minister J. V. Fisher and chairman Dr. H. Morrison.

Association of United Ukrainian Canadians will hold their annual concert Sunday at 8 p.m. at Kings Road Hall. A colorful program of folk dancing, vocal and orchestral numbers has been arranged.

MARTIN SAYS BCHIS CHANGE WELL RECEIVED

People throughout B.C. are now "satisfied how provincial hospital insurance is financed," Health Minister Eric Martin told the Old Age Pensioners Organization convention here today.

He was speaking of the 2 per cent sales tax boost passed at the last legislative session, replacing direct hospital insurance payments.

The government, he said, was "constantly aware of the requirements of senior citizens," and illustrating this point was the $5 hike in the cost of living bonus now being paid old age pensioners.

Of his department's $27,500,000 health and welfare budget this year, one dollar in every three was going to old age pension payments, he said.

Local Jaycees Win Honors at Regina Parley

The Hamilton Junior Chamber of Commerce took top honors at the chambers' national convention at Regina today, winning four of the 26 national awards.

Hamilton captured first prize for outstanding chamber in cities over 50,000 population, the membership trophy, public speaking and the French-speaking project. The city also placed second in leadership training, social welfare and outstanding project of the year.

Toronto was runner-up in national awards, claiming the trophies for social welfare and membership assimilation.

Victoria took first place in the government and civic affairs divisions while the municipal improvement trophy went to Wallaceburg, Ont.

The Brooks, Alta., chamber won the public relations trophy. Kitchener, Ont., won prizes for traffic safety and publications.

Big Water Project Benefits 5,000 Saanich Householders

Over 5,000 homes in Saanich will benefit from a large waterworks project now almost completed, it was reported today by H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer.

A 10-inch water main nearly three miles in length has been laid down from Shellburne Street to Ten Mile Point and will soon be in working order, Mr. Dawson said.

The main will improve the water pressure in Gordon Head, Cadboro Bay and Ten Mile Point, three districts which have complained in the past of lack of sufficient water.

The project is the largest item on the $185,000 Waterworks By-Law which ratepayers approved in a referendum last December.

Saanich work crews began laying down the water main in May and early this week linked up with a water pipe on Tudor Avenue. It took over 15,000 feet of pipe to complete the project.

Workers will now begin laying down tributary pipes from this main which will provide hundreds of additional homes with better water pressure. This part of the scheme will not take long to complete.

Meanwhile, the Saanich public works department is waiting for equipment to start its waterworks project in the "panhandle" and the Mount Tolmie districts. Most of this area is fed by one-inch pipes, which is inadequate for the large number of homes in these two districts.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Can you tell me what city in Canada is officially known as the "Garden City of Canada?"

P. R. M.

A.—No city is on the map as "Garden City of Canada." To be official, and thus to have a place on the map, all place names in Canada must be approved by the Geographic Board of Canada. The name of this city which has its approval is Victoria. Perhaps what you have in mind is a resolution of the city council, passed in May, 1949. It had been proposed by the parks administrator that "in view of the fact that Portland, Oregon, is known as 'The City of Roses' and Seattle as 'The City of Flowers,' that Victoria be called 'The City of Gardens' for the reason that such a wide variety of plants are grown here and that no particular variety of flower is featured, etc., etc." The city council's declaration thus became an official local statement descriptive of Victoria, but the approval of the Geographic Board of Canada makes Victoria the official name of this city.

Col. Baldwin retired as chairman of B.C. Labor Relations Board, June 16, after holding that position since January 1, 1951. Prior to this he was B.C. superintendent, Veteran's Land Act.

Prior to and following Second World War, he was advertising and later business manager of the Chilliwack Progress. Since 1950 he has been a member of the board of governors of the University of British Columbia.

Col. Baldwin has done considerable work for the Chilliwack Valley Emergency Flood Committee, of which he was chairman in 1948, and subsequently commissioner of the Fraser Valley Rehabilitation Authority 1948 and 1949.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily, unless otherwise specified, in matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Our photographers are experts at head and shoulder portraits....

...Without the head.

A little of everything and not much of anything:

News brief the other day said: "New contract between B.C. Electric and Street Railways' Union... likely will be signed within a week of 10 days."

That's what we need for these long-drawn-out labor disputes. A 10-day week.

Speaking of labor disputes, I see where the provincial civil servants are talking strike.

This is unfair to the Socred government.

The only thing it hoped to strike was oil.

Here's one businessman who refuses to hide behind the skirts of his switchboard operator.

He was involved in a long conversation with a long-winded acquaintance the other day when suddenly, the line went dead.

A few seconds later, his phone rang again, and his acquaintance said: "Guess your operator cut us off."

"The hell she did," said our businessman. "I hung up." Whereupon, he hung up again.

Wally Gray of the Saanich recreation council wants us all to know what happened at the meeting when the various softball teams chose their club colors.

The Oak Street Park Club, sponsored by the Inside Postal Workers, was sixteenth on the list.

"There don't seem to be many colors left," the Postie representative said, mournfully. "Guess we'll have to take chartreuse and lavender."

What, no old lace?

I am glad the strike has been settled, at least insofar as use of the Ross Bay Cemetery is concerned.

Victoria could get along without many things. But we need all our cemeteries.

Norm Pringle, the DA disc jockey who rides Western style, found himself slightly confused the other evening when called upon to read an advertisement for a certain motion picture.

What came out of the other end of the microphone was: "Gentlemen prefer blondes at regular prices."

But Norm made up for it the next time he hit the same commercial. He said: "Gentlemen prefer blondes with selected shorts."

(Nothing personal, I trust. Norm's to-be of next month is a blonde.)

With reference to yesterday's effort, Bill Walker says any fool can break the 60-second minute.

All you do is adjust the little jigger at the back of your watch, moving it to "fast."

Divorces granted since the start of the year are as follows: January, six; February, nine; March, 12; April, 14; May, 19; and June to date, 15.

Conviction of Jack Raoul Cloutier of Victoria on a theft charge has been quashed on appeal in Vancouver.

Cloutier was sentenced by Judge J. B. Cleathrus in County Court here April 21 to six months for theft of $250 diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Edith Burkman of Dencross Terrace, Saanichton.

The accused said he found the ring on Easter Sunday last year in the Burkman garden where he was a guest of George Percy Burkman.

Sentencing of two young city boxers charged with obstruction and assault of police officers in a wild melee in a Fisgard Street cafe May 25, was adjourned in court today to Friday.

Convicted of assaulting police sergeant John Mason and obstructing Constable John Rieber, was Edward Robertson, about 22. His younger brother, Wayne Robertson, 2550 Vancouver, made a last-minute change of plea to guilty on a charge of obstructing Sergeant Mason.

NEW VI BRANCH

"The Vancouver Island Council has continued to prove its worth. Island branches (nine) continue to grow and one new branch has been formed at Comox which already has 83 members," the secretary concluded.

E. A. Griffin, Peace Park, near White Rock, provincial secretary of the 6,000-member Old Age Pensioners Organization of B.C., was speaking at the opening session of a two-day convention of the OAPO at the Eagles Home. There are 69 delegates attending from many parts of the province.

Mr. Griffin did not elaborate on his statement.

He was also critical of the Senior Citizens Association of B.C., active in Vancouver, and said that during the past year this group had carried on "very active and unscrupulous campaign of lies and misrepresentation" designed to hurt the OAOP organization.

The OAPO, he said, had spent a great deal of time the past year "in combatting endeavors of these people to disrupt and destroy our organization." Five branches had been lost to the Senior Citizen Association, he said.

He reported the provincial government had given assurance it was studying provision

Resolutions to be considered by delegates today dealt mostly with pension increases,

Victoria branch No. 5 urged the social welfare department to ask municipalities to cover cost of ambulance services as "the present charge of $8 is far beyond the means of the average pensioner." The Victoria group also asked that chiropractors be given the same recognition as medical doctors.

Housewives! Use a Mix When You Make Frosting

By PENNY SAVER

A fluffy, egg-white frosting is one of the most difficult things to make. Mine always turns out so runny that it ends up in a great pool around the base of the cake, and I end up in a great temper. I once swore that I'd never try to make it again.

But I've changed my tune now that I've discovered the new, seven-minute frosting mix. "Just add water and whip," that's what it says on the packet. So I did. And I'm glad.

The directions are easy, but important. For, although you "just add water and whip" you must first make certain that all utensils are free from grease. And you must use just the right amount of water.

The mix contains egg whites, sugar, stabilizer and artificial flavor. For pretty party colorings, add food color to the mix.

Here's an idea. When you've made the frosting, separate it into several sections. Color each part a different shade, then combine them in swirls on the cake. A rainbow cake like this would be very festive.

Believe me, I've tried this new frosting and it is nothing short of being wonderful. It is so fluffy and smooth that it seems to slip down like whipped cream, yet it is firm enough to hold the peaks that make this type of icing so attractive.

Well, folks, there won't be a "Penny Saver" column for a few days. Reason is that Penny Saver is taking off for California. Yep, I'm going to bask in the sun and spend all my money foolishly before I come back to you and tell you how to save yours.

California, here I come!

Differences in Backgrounds Sometimes Prevent Romance

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Parents can sometimes put obstacles in the path of their son's romance and make things complicated for him. When this happens, the best thing for the girl to do is to step out of the picture. A girl writes:

(Q) "I am very fond of a boy I met recently. Two weeks after I met him, he asked me to go to a party at his home. He has two very nice parents and they live in the ultra-exclusive section of town. Then I asked him to go to a dance at the school I go to. He goes to a private school. I had the most wonderful time at that dance and he seemed to enjoy it, too. But it has been three weeks since that dream night and he hasn't even called me. My best girl friend is planning to have a party and she wants me to invite this boy. Do you think that is proper or is the next move up to him? My friend has threatened to invite him, even though she doesn't know him, and tell him to call me for details. What shall I do?"

(A) Tell your friend you will be very angry if she invites this boy to her party unless you hear from him and he says he would like to go. She might make a very embarrassing situation for you and this you certainly do not want.

The last time you met, this boy was your guest. It is now his turn to invite you, or certainly to call you and tell you what a good time he had at your school dance. If you invite him again, without hearing from him, it could certainly be interpreted as "chasing after him."

Has it ever occurred to you that even if his parents are very nice people, they might be a trifle snobbish and feel that they did not want their son to go with a girl who does not attend a private school or live in the ultra-fashionable neighborhood they live in?

This may be a blow to you but you must face facts and be realistic about them. Some parents feel that a son must be "selective" about the girls he goes with. This boy's parents may have felt that he was seeing too much of you and they tried to break it up. Otherwise, what possible explanation can there be for this long silence? Don't pin your hopes on this boy until you see how things work out.

Early July Wedding Day

Of interest is the announcement made by Mrs. Margaret E. Pike telling of the engagement of her elder daughter, Margaret Ursula Mary, to Dr. Alfred Livingstone Ogilvie of Seattle, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Ogilvie of Vancouver. The marriage will take place at St. John's Anglican Church, Victoria, on Saturday, July 17, at 3 o'clock. Miss Pike, who is the granddaughter of Mrs. A. B. Cotton, 990 Terrace Avenue, is a graduate of the University of British Columbia, where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority. Dr. Ogilvie attended the University of British Columbia and is a graduate of the University of Toronto. (Photo by Whitefoot.)

Before buying one of the broad-brimmed hats that are headed for summer popularity, consider your figure as well as your face. When trying on the hats, look at yourself in a floor-length mirror. In general, these hats look well only on tall women. However, a woman of medium height, who is very slim, may also wear them well.

Review Editor a Speaker At Social Work Conference

TORONTO—Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, will be one of the principal speakers at the International Conference of Social Work which begins here June 27 and ends July 2.

Although only 39, Mr. Cousins is the author of many articles and books that have won international acclaim. He is considered an outstanding expert on Far Eastern politics, welfare and technical assistance programs. Among his outstanding works are: "Talks With Nehru", "Who Speaks for Many" and "Modern Man in Obsolete".

Included among other world personalities taking leading roles at the conference are: Dr. J. F. de Jongh, director of the Amsterdam School of Social Work and formerly with the Netherlands' Ministry of Economic Affairs; Dr. Georges Desmottes, director of the Family Division, Department of Health and Population, France; Professor Alan Moncrieff, Nuffield Professor of Child Health, Institute of Child Health, University of London.

Middle and Far Eastern delegates attending the conference are coming from Israel, Iraq, Syria, Turkey, Lebanon, Egypt, India, Pakistan, Thailand, Korea, Japan, Nationalist China, Viet Nam, and the Philippines.

Celebrate at Ocean Park

Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Church of Ocean Park, B.C., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday, January 29. They are well known in this city where Rev. Church was minister of Metropolitan United Church from 1933 to 1937. He has also preached in Toronto and Winnipeg and at present is conducting services in the United Church of Crescent Beach, B.C. A daughter, Mrs. A. E. Taylor of this city, with her three sons, David, Lance and Clint, will go to Ocean Park on Monday for the anniversary. Another daughter, Mrs. D. H. McCain with her four children will travel from Cloverdale. A son, Dr. E. J. M. Church, his wife and son, of Ottawa, will be unable to attend.

Here From Saskatchewan

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robertson-Kincaild, Sask., are spending their holidays on Vancouver Island and are guests of Mrs. Robertson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cuthbert, Brentwood.

Party for Miss Lovick

Mrs. Keith Toll entertained at her home in Luxor Manor with a miscellaneous shower to honor Miss Norma Lovick. A rainbow container decorated in rose tones concealed the gifts, which were presented with a corsage of golden gladioli and roses. Mrs. H. Lovick, mother of the bride-elect, received maroon carnations. Refreshments were served, buffet style, from a table covered with a cutwork lace cloth and centred with a bride's cake, topped with pastel flowers and embedded in peach and yellow tulips. Pale blue candles were placed in flower-filled holders. Other guests were Mrs. L. Roberts, Mrs. C. Lovick, Mrs. G. Miles, Mrs. E. Browne, Mrs. W. Boulton, Mrs. J. Thomson, Mrs. N. Pittard, Mrs. W. Glosse, Mrs. D. J. Hayhurst, Misses Mary Lovick and Jean Thomson.

Pupils' Recital

Songs, French conversation and an amusing playlet were presented to a delighted audience by pupils of Madame Oiga Ritchie in their closing recital held recently at her home, 40 Government Street. These pupils, with one lesson each week, are acquiring a talent of tremendous value. From the five year-old beginner with the impish smile but quick response to the fluent seniors the festival was a tribute to the method of teaching, enthusiasm and patience of Mme. Ritchie. Those taking part were Stephen Bapty, Peter Nash, John Gregg, Roger Bapty, Gordon Nueis, Michael Clark, David Bapty, Sally Rose, Carolyn Martin, Anne Harvey, Margaret Nelson, Vivien Sanquineti, Ronald Roberts, Peter Richards and Desmond Montgomery.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Going Without Breakfast Will Not Help Reducing

The controversy of whether one should eat a large breakfast or a small one goes on year after year. I recently reported results of experiments which showed that the worker who does not eat an adequate breakfast is subject to late morning lag and is not so efficient as the one who eats a reasonable morning meal.

Many women eat little or no breakfast, thinking that this is an easy way to lose weight. Recently the college of medicine at the State University of Iowa made a study concerning the breakfast and its connection in weight loss. They found that the habit of skipping breakfast has no value in weight reduction.

They worked with two groups. One had no breakfast at all while the other had the usual breakfast of bacon and eggs. Both of these groups followed a regular reducing diet at the two other meals. Those who ate no breakfast did not lose so rapidly as those who did, a few of them in fact, gained a little weight.

We can only decide that those who missed breakfast were so hungry that they broke over at the other meals or snacked between times. It doesn't matter so far as weight reduction is concerned when you eat your meals so long as you consume each 24 hours. It does have an effect on your comfort while reducing, and is apt to sabotage your efforts.

Let's face it. We must settle down to daily calorie counting and we are wise if we follow the advice of those who have experience and information.

Don't make reducing a fad-dish activity. Eat your three well-balanced meals a day with your glass of skim milk or buttermilk or juice at mid-afternoon and before going to sleep at night. Learn to cut out the trimmings, those tasty foods which are not essential for health and are packed with calories and then count your daily intake. You will look pretty and will feel well along with looking slimmer if you follow some sensible rules.

If you would like to have my calorie chart, send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 "Count Your Calories," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Winch Tells Where He Got Bright Tie

OTTAWA (BUP) — Harold Winch (CCF-Vancouver East) told the Commons Wednesday night where he got the hand-painted necktie depicting a big red rose in full bloom that has been drawing comment from other members for the past fortnight.

It came from a prisoner in the British Columbia penitentiary, he said.

The tie with the rose painted on a white background and worn with a cream-colored summer suit, has been the brightest spot in the Commons.

The Vancouver CCF member urged that efforts be made to sell prisoners' hobby products.

Garson indicated he would look into the plan.

NORTHERN FISH

The inconspicuous sort of whitefish found in the Mackenzie River basin sometimes reaches a weight of 40 pounds.

"The situation is not anything of which the government can be proud," he said. "The government should supplement the pensions."

The government had argued that their pensions are based on contractual arrangements and contributions.

GAVE INCREASES

Mr. Knowles, a printer by trade, said that his union, the International Typographical Union, has given recent increases under its pension plan to all members of the plan, regardless of what their original pension contract was.

Finance Minister Abbott replied that the government does not feel the pensions should be supplemented.

"We're dealing with taxpayers' money," he said. Many taxpayers did not receive automatic increases in pensions.

However, the universal old age pensions of $40 a month benefited most of the people to whom Mr. Knowles referred. Nearly all of them were more than 70.

NEW QUEEN'S PRINTER

WINNIPEG (BUP) — Raymond S. Evans of Morden, Man., publisher of the Morden Times, was appointed Queen's printer for Manitoba Wednesday.

He replaced C. E. Leech of Brandon, who resigned in May after being suspended following reports of irregularities in the awarding of printing contracts.

VISIT the world-famous

BUTCHART GARDENS

Because Jenny Butchart had a sensitive feeling for beauty, she did the impossible by transforming a bleak, abandoned two-and-one-half-acre rock quarry on her husband's cement business into a magnificent Sunken Garden. However, this garden soon expanded up through other gardens: the Japanese Garden, the English Rose Garden and the Italian Garden—25 acres in all!

Low Civil Service Pension Hike Advocated

Some As Low As $20, $30 Per Month Knowles Tells MPs

OTTAWA (CP)—Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) Wednesday renewed his annual plea for aid to former government employees who retired years ago on low pensions.

He said in the Commons that there are far too many retired civil servants on pensions of $20 or $30 a month.

They had retired in years when their pay, on which pensions were based, was low. They had received no benefit from subsequent improvements in the Civil Service Superannuation Act.

"The situation is not anything of which the government can be proud," he said. "The government should supplement the pensions."

The government had argued that their pensions are based on contractual arrangements and contributions.

Anti-Reds' TV
Antics Held Bad for U.S.

Television of public hearings in the United States has "improved the position of the battle." Clarence L. Hulford, vice-president, National Bank of Commerce, Seattle, said here Wednesday.

He said also that as a result of the televised anti-Red hearings "I suspect we have not the best public relations."

There was confusion in the public mind, however, between "the actions of a committee" and the "actions of a court."

The U.S. banker and world traveler, addressing the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, spoke also on the general public relations picture and how it applied between North and South America. He said of the Guatemalan conflict that "hearts of most Latin Americans" with the fight of the Guatemalan to express his freedom."

He pointed out that trade between North and South America was more important than ever today — up from $28 billions in 1945 to $40 billions in 1952 — and any action of disarray among continental neighbors was to be avoided.

Abbott Kills Sacred Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott Wednesday rejected proposals that Canada attempt to increase export sales of wheat and other products by depreciating the value of the dollar and accepting non-dollar currencies.

The two suggestions were made in the Commons by Vice-Prime Minister King Aroo (SC, Acadia, Alta.). He said depreciation of the dollar would reduce the cost of quoted in terms of other currencies and place Canada in a position to compete for foreign markets with other countries. Acceptance of sterling and other non-dollar currencies would help eliminate any necessity of cutting production to reduce surpluses, Mr. Quelch said.

Mr. Abbott said that since the dollar was freed several years ago the government has not attempted to influence the level at which Canadian money is quoted in terms of other currencies.

DR. R. RUSH SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS

Found Guilty
In Wife's Death

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Raymond D. Rush was sentenced to five years' imprisonment by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane here Wednesday for the manslaughter of his wife Margaret last November 10.

Dr. Rush was accused of failing to take proper steps to try and save his wife's life when she was seriously ill.

Leslie Parsons, Dr. Rush's counsel, said an appeal "will probably be made."

Asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, Rush replied: "I think this verdict is the greatest miscarriage of justice which has ever taken place."

A coroner's inquest determined that Mrs. Rush, 38, died from acute ulcerated colitis, aggravated by large doses of barbituates.

His wife had no use for other doctors and refused to be X-rayed or go to hospital. Dr. Rush testified. He gave these as reasons for not sending her to hospital.

Rhododendron Needs Shade, Lots of Water

For good rhododendrons in the Victoria area, two thorough soakings a week are the minimum water requirement.

This was one of the points stressed by K. E. Christiansen when addressing the V.I. Association of Nurserymen and Allied Trades on the "Highlights of Rhododendrons."

Growing naturally where 60 inches of rainfall during the year and the air is always moist, they suffer considerably in our dry summers.

The most common causes of failure in the home garden are planting too deep and too loosely, no mulch to protect the roots which are always near the surface, and growing shade-loving kinds in full sunlight.

Another point stressed by Mr. Christiansen was that plants imported from Europe must be given the richest possible soil if they are to flower the year after planting. Straight rich compost was recommended, and is essential because the roots are so severely trimmed to reduce shipping weight. Such precaution does not apply to locally-grown stock because no root-trimming is done when the plants are dug. They become quickly established in the garden.

June meeting of the group, the last before the summer recess, will be held tonight at 8:30 in the Lake Hill W.I. Hall, Quadra Street and Lodge Ave., ne.

Colored slides of rock plants by Vern Ahiers, and of a trip through the southwest U.S. by Frank Julian, are the entertainment features to be followed by the usual growers' get-together and refreshments.

St. Margaret Pupils Display Horsemanship

There was a good turnout at a horse show Wednesday at Victoria Riding and Hunt Club for St. Margaret's School pupils. Judge of the events was Mrs. Robert Shanks.

Here are the results:

Junior jumping: (1) Bahs Carley, (2) Joan Bell, (3) Elizabeth Edgeland.

Senior jumping: (1) E. Stener, (2) Dorothy Wilson, (3) Barbara Williams.

Junior jumping: (1) Dana Thompson, (2) Carol Turner, (3) Jean Dunbar.

Intermediate riding: (1) Linda McMasters, (2) Dana Thompson, (3) Dorothy Edgewell, (4) Jean Dunbar.

Senior riding: (1) Barbara Williams, (2) Dale Spilsbury, (3) Dorothy Wilson.

PIGGY-BACK LANDING

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Two light planes landed simultaneously—one on top of the other—at the Shawnee municipal airport Wednesday night. The pilots escaped with cuts and bruises. "If you ever had the world to drop in on you, you know how I felt," said H. E. Redding, pilot of the plane on bottom.

B.C. Fishermen May End Strike Sun. Midnight

New Price Scale Subject of Vote

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C.'s striking salmon fishermen will go back to work Sunday midnight if union locals approve an agreement reached Wednesday by a joint committee of cannery operators and three unions.

Negotiations on prices for this year's salmon catch started April 30 and, with no progress made, about 6,000 fishermen struck last Saturday midnight.

Prices agreed on are: Sockeye, 22 cents a pound; coho, 13 cents; pink, 7½ cents; summer chum, 5½ cents; fall chum, 6½ to 8 cents a pound.

Fishermen will vote during the next two days to accept or reject the price scale.

Homer Stevens, United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union secretary, said, "Our committee recommends the agreement with the idea of preventing any further dislocation in the industry."

18 Months in Jail For $2,100 Theft On Union Funds

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — Richard Frederick Mattison of Trail found guilty of the theft of $2,100 in union funds at the spring asssizes here, was sentenced Wednesday to 18 months at Oakalla prison farm. However, if accommodation is available he will remain in the provincial jail here.

Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne heard a strong plea for leniency from defense counsel D. L. Brothers, who asked for a light sentence for the sake of Mattison's wife and their three children. The oldest child, 12, has rheumatic fever and a second child is showing symptoms of it, he said.

The money was taken from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters' and Miners' of America at Trail.

SALES INCREASE

In the entire insurance business, sales this year were already three per cent ahead of sales for the comparable period last year. Canada Life business in force passed the $2,000,000 mark in May. The 107-year-old company has doubled its business in the last seven years, the president said.

In British Columbia, Canada Life now has $10,000,000 in mortgage loans and is expanding this lending by large additional amounts," he revealed.

The company's total investment in this province was more than the aggregate of premium collections, he said.

"We feel that B.C. is dedicated to the encouragement of private enterprise, and in that climate investment can be made safely."

Mr. Gill, who addressed a luncheon meeting of company representatives here Wednesday since 1921 . . . "my only job . . ." He is currently visiting some of the organization's 40 branches across Canada. Next stops will be Edmonton and Saskatoon.

STOLE CLOTHES FOR TROUSSEAU, JUDGE LENIENT

VANCOUVER (CP) — Marlene Thomson pleaded guilty in police court here Wednesday to the theft of $169 worth of clothes from a store. But the law was lenient! Magistrate Oscar Orr suspended sentence on the 18-year-old girl and ordered to sign a $100 bond to keep the peace for a year. The clothes were for Marlene's trousseau. She will be married shortly.

Fishermen will vote during the next two days to accept or reject the price scale.

Homer Stevens, United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union secretary, said, "Our committee recommends the agreement with the idea of preventing any further dislocation in the industry."

'The Pleasure's All Mine...'

"Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow" might be the theme of today's exodus from classrooms as Victoria's schools settle into peace and quiet for the summer respite from pencils, books, and dirty looks. Mrs. Margaret Martin of Lampson Street School shows no regret as she looks forward to more than two months minus reading, writing, and rambunctious rascals. The rascals aren't shedding tears, either.

But mothers throughout the city began marking days off the calendar, waiting for the magic date—Sept. 7

Speedy Cease-Fire Promised by Reds

Mendes-France Reports to Assembly On Indo-China Talks With Chou En Lai

PARIS (UP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France told the National Assembly today that Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai has promised a military settlement—the long-awaited cease-fire—in Indo-China as speedily as possible.

Mendes-France, who promised the nation peace in Indo-China by July 20 or his own resignation, won a thumping 433 to 23 vote of confidence from the assembly on the steps taken so far to make good his pledge.

The vote was taken on his request to postpone indefinitely questions on the composition of his cabinet to leave him free to concentrate on his end-the-war efforts.

The vote was 14 votes greater than he won on June 18 when he was approved by the assembly as the new leader of the French government.

Mendes-France reported on his meeting Wednesday in Bern, Switzerland, with the Communist premier and foreign minister.

"During the talks," he said, "we agreed to realize as rapidly as possible a settlement of the military problems."

Until now, the Communist bloc in the Geneva Far Eastern conference had insisted on discussion of political matters, such as elections, before or at least simultaneously with a military cease-fire.

But the "do-it-now" premier assured the assembly that he will win a cease-fire or resign.

$31.8 Million Decline in Farm Income

OTTAWA (CP)—Wheat farmers were hit the hardest as farm cash income for all Canada dropped by $31,800,000 from the first three months of 1954.

The bureau of statistics today estimated the first quarter income at $504,311,000, down $31,800,000 from the 1953 first quarter of $536,150,000 and a drop of $51,400,000 from the 1952 peak of $555,700,000.

SIX PROVINCES

Six provinces—the Prairie, Ontario and the Maritimes—felt the decline, but by far the biggest drop was in Saskatchewan, heart of Canada's wheat belt, the bureau said.

Wheat was the big cause of the decline. Smaller deliveries by farmers because of congested storage, smaller marketings and lower prices cut farmers' cash income from the sale of wheat to $49,700,000—less than half the $112,800,000 received in the first quarter last year.

Timing' Breaks Down Disarmament Talks

5-Power Parley on Prohibition of Atomic Weapons Reported Wrecked Over Methods

LONDON (Reuters)—The recent five-power disarmament talks in London broke down on a clash of views between East and West on the timing of proposed prohibition of atomic weapons, according to conference documents made public today.

The United States, Britain, Canada, France and the Soviet Union attended the conference, which ended Tuesday after five full weeks.

The Western powers rejected a basic Soviet plan for the prohibition of "atomic, hydrogen and other weapons of mass destruction" to take effect simultaneously with the setting up of an international control system, the documents on the hitherto secret talks revealed.

FOR PEACEFUL USE

Russia rejected an Anglo-French plan for the introduction of total prohibition of atomic weapons by stages. Each stage, from cessation of expenditure on atomic weapons to cessation of production and conversion of stocks to peaceful use, would depend on actual steps taken to limit conventional types of armaments.

In the Anglo-French plan, stages in the prohibition of atomic weapons would also depend on firm progression of the control organ which would enforce a general disarmament treaty.

A U.S. plan proposing that future disarmament and atomic development authority was also considered.

THREE OBJECTIVES

The Anglo-French plan, proposed as a compromise between the previous Soviet and Western positions and backed by the U.S. and Canada, had three objectives.

1. Eventual total prohibition of the manufacture and use of all atomic, chemical and bacteriological weapons of mass destruction, and, where possible, conversion of existing stocks to peaceful purposes.

2. Major reductions in all armed forces and conventional armaments.

3. Setting up of an international organ empowered to insure that these prohibitions and reductions were carried out.

The Soviet ambassador to Britain, Jacob Malik, leader of Russia's delegation, accepted these aims in principle, but refused to allow the control organ sufficient powers to assure the Western powers of its effectiveness.

Canadians Defeated

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (AP)—Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., carried Australian star Lewis Hoad to four sets today before losing 6-3, 6-0, 16-6 in the third round men's singles of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Ken Rosewall of Australia joined Hoad in the fourth round with a 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4 victory over Bob Falcenber, an American now living in Brazil.

Gil Shea of Presidio, Calif., eliminated Canada's Lorne Main, 6-1, 7-5, 5-7, 1-6, 6-1.

U.S. Ex-Red Must Leave Britain

LONDON (UPI)—Britain today rejected a plea for "political asylum" by a young American doctor who admitted he once was a Communist and refused to return to the United States because he feared political persecution.

Home Secretary Sir David Maxwell Fyfe announced in the House of Commons that 25-year-old Dr. Joseph Cort will have to leave by June 30.

Cort had refused to return to the U.S. to report to his draft board, and the American Embassy took up his passport.

Saved Life Term By Technicality

REGINA (CP)—A technicality saved 43-year-old James P. Ryan from prosecution today on a charge of being an habitual criminal and an undeterminate sentence that would mean a life in jail.

Ryan was convicted of stealing $500 worth of furniture and sentenced to 18 months. Judge B. D. Hogarth dismissed the second count of being an habitual criminal because the notice served Ryan on the charge did not stipulate the kind of courts for previous convictions.

U.S. Cool to British Indo-China Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. state department gave a cool reception today to the British proposal, on the eve of Churchill-Eisenhower talks here, for a Locarno-type system of security guarantees for Red-threatened Southeast Asia.

War-torn Indo-China, according to the view of officials here, probably would be "neutralized" under the plan.

Security Council Meets on Guatemala

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The UN Security Council has been called to meet Friday afternoon to deal with the Guatemalan situation. The meeting was summoned on the request of Guatemala, Brazil and Columbia.

Crop Duster Killed

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—Pilot Jack Allen, 24, operator of Alien Air Services at Medicine Hat, was instantly killed today when his plane struck a wind-charger while he was crop-dusting on a farm near Winnifred, Alta., about 60 miles east of here.
